All NNRMLS Staff Now CMLX1 Certified

As four more NNRMLS Team Members earned their CMLX1 certifications the Northern Nevada Regional Multiple Listing Service entered a select club of MLS organizations in North America to have 100 percent of its staff obtain the international designation.

Reno, NV — NNRMLS is only the third Multiple Listing Service in the nation to have all staff CMLX1 certified, according to available data compiled by issuing agency the Council of Multiple Listing Services.

“Our team believes in the special role that MLS plays in the real estate industry and having a team that is literally one hundred percent committed to raising the bar of their own professional credentials is just one of many examples of the value we are bringing to our membership,” NNRMLS CEO George Pickard said.

CMLS currently has 208 member MLS organizations. At least one individual from 104 of its member MLSs have completed CMLX1, according to the data.

Director of Finance and Office Administration Amie VanClute, Director of Information Technology Ryan Snyder, Director of Membership and Compliance Misty Burch and newest recruit, Member Support Specialist Brooke Murphy were the latest NNRMLS Team Members to earn this professional credential in real estate through CMLS. VanClute, Snyder, Burch and Murphy all earned the CMLX1 professional designation this spring.

Pickard, a CMLX2 designee himself, said he is proud that 100 percent of his team has completed the CMLS Certification program. He also noted the extraordinary commitment of the volunteer leaders who serve on the NNRMLS Board of Trustees and who have participated in the CMLXV certification, which is specifically designed to level up the expertise and industry knowledge of volunteer Board Members.

“The CMLX certification program is a rigorous training program that produces certified management specialists in Multiple Listing Services,” said Denee Evans, CEO of CMLS. “The men and women who make a commitment to professionalism by enrolling in this program are often the ones who help lead multiple listing services and the North American real estate industry, which has become the envy of the world. I congratulate VanClute, Burch, Snyder, Murphy and the entire organization on their most recent accomplishment.”
